

Mind Your Business

Merging Meaningful Work with Financial Wisdom

JULIUS A. AUSTIN
JUDE T. AUSTIN II

American Counseling
Association counseling.org

Copyright © 2026 American Counseling Association. All rights reserved.

American Counseling Association
2461 Eisenhower Avenue, Suite 300
Alexandria, Virginia 22314

Published in the United States of America

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Library of Congress Control Number 2025044248

ISBN 9781556200090 (print)

CIP data requested but not available at time of publication

Contents

Preface	i
1. The Counselor as Businessperson.....	1
2. Insights and Trends Within the Counseling Marketplace	15
3. Our Earning Potential.....	35
4. Getting Out of the Hole	49
5. Professional and Legal Considerations	67
6. Traditional Business	87
7. Nontraditional Business and Side Hustles in Counseling	111
8. Administrative Duties.....	135
9. Marketing Strategies for Counselors	153
10. Taking Advantage of Counseling Innovation.....	175
11. A Trainer’s Paradise.....	189
12. The Business of Supervision	203
13. Evaluating and Improving Your Business	217
14. Generating Wealth Toward Retirement.....	231
15. Having Money on the Mind and Not in the Heart.....	245
16. Doing Good Business	255
Conclusion	267
About the Authors	275